THE NEWS IN LONDON.

MR. GLADSTONE'S SCOTCH CAMPAIGN.
NO COMPROMISE ON THE FRANCHISE BILL—IRISH
RESENTMENT—OPERA AND THE DRAMA.
(BY CABLE TO THE TRIBUNE.)

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Mr. Gladstone's progress in Scotland has produced intense enthusiasm. His speeches have given a great impulse to the Liberal cause, notwithstanding the many interpretations of his language respecting the joining or redistribution with the franchise in the autumn. It is clear that compromise is no part of Mr. Gladstone's present policy. His phrase that if the Franchise Bill delayed the field of controversy will be enlarged is held to indicate a probability of Mr. Gladstone's joining in a crusade against the Lords, but more likely there will be a creation of Peers. Taking the cue from Mr. Gladstone, the Liberals are now realizing that if once the precedent be established of the Lords forcing a dissolution of Parliament, all Liberal Governments will be at the mercy of the upper chamber. This point is strongly emphasized this week in the speeches of Mr. Heneage Hussey Vivian. Meanwhile there is no sign of a Tory surrender; the Opposition evidently awaiting Lord Salisbury's watchword to be shortly given in Scotland.

MR. GLADSTONE ON GERMANY AND IRELAND.

Mr. Gladstone's remarks respecting German colonization and the condition of Ireland continue to attract much attention. The German press treats the olive branch either with suspicion or ridicule. His observations nevertheless truly reflect British feeling. The English regard French colonization as simple conquest. Germany has no record in this field, and English disapproval of Lord Derby's action respecting Angela Peppera is the best testimony of their views.

The Irish are making much capital of Mr. Gladstone's admission that he underestimated the gravity of Irish affairs at the beginning of 1880. The Tories seize upon Mr. Gladstone's confession in order to demonstrate Lord Beaconsfield's superior wisdom as shown in his famous letter to the Duke of Marlborough on the eve of the last general election. The Nationalist press pours forth further criticisms of Mr. Gladstone. Mr. Healy has delivered a very violent speech, suggesting that the proper deduction from Mr. Gladstone's statement is that the only chance of impressing English Parliament is in the mouth of the blunderbus and the rattle of slugs on the roadside. The real cause of Nationalistic indignation lies in Mr. Gladstone's emphatic declaration that even if it were to cost the lives of two or three administrations, Ireland should never be dissolved in fate and fortune from England.

IT IS regarded as highly probable that one result of the Premier's attitude will be the withdrawal of the Parnell vote from the Government on the franchise question in the autumn. The Paradesis are already greatly exasperated by Lord Spencer's refusal to reopen the Mauntra trials and the firm conduct of the Government in the Dublin scanda

CITION OF IRELAND.

In spite of the protestations of the National leaders and press, the condition of Ireland is greatly improving. Evidence of this is furnished by the Duke of Edinburgh's recent visit. The Duke made the circuit of the Island with the Channel fleet, calling at Galway, Cork, Dublin, and Belfast. He was enthusiastically received by the local authorities and people save at Dublin. There the Corporation made no signs though the Mayor has since apologized for the neglect; but the populace gave him a great reception at Cork, which is Mr. Parnell's constituency. The Corporation and citizens joined in an enthusiastic welcome, and the Mayor dined with the Duke.

On the other hand, Lord Spencer, visiting Kilkenny, the centre of disturbance in the Southwest, was coldly received, but it is notable that his host, Lord Kenmare, who has been virtually exiled for three years, met with a tremendous popular greeting.

PROSPECTS UP THE NILE.

All the news from Egypt encourages those who believe that a mere demonstration at or beyond Dongola will be sufficient to open the way for General Gordon to leave Khartoum. Private letters have just been received from a confidential agent of the Government and by Miss Gordon, dated from beyond Dongola. This man dressed as a dervish is believed now to be in Khartoum with important emissaries from Lord Granville.

FRANCE'S FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES.

The passive attitude of the Chinese is increasing M. Ferry's difficulties. The French force for colonial purposes, without a formal summoning of the Chamber, is already exhausted, and it is doubtful whether the Deputies will vote in favor of war. This would involve a disturbance of the home defensive arrangements. The German press is inducing the English view of the gravity of the present situation, and France is heavily handicapped by the necessity of consulting foreign interests in the Treaty Ports and by the information that the permanent occupation of Haifan would provoke British opposition.

CABINET RUMORS.

There is no confirmation of the report that Lord Rosebery is to succeed Lord Cardingford, who desires to retire on account of ill health. Mr. Gladstone could make no more acceptable appointment. The Half-Mill Gazette says that it is obvious even to the bitterest partisans that Lord Rosebery's accession would not only strengthen the Ministry, but give an element of vigor and resolution to its counseils at home and abroad.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

Mr. Irving and Miss Terry are resting at Deal prior to starting for New-York.

Mrs. Langtry has signed an agreement with Mr. Abdy to play three months or longer in London, opening at the Prince's in January.

Next year's Italian opera plans are the subject of many reports. There will be three distinct companies. At the end of May Miss Fatti leaves Covent Garden and goes with Colonel Mapleton to Drury Lane. Mr. Strakosch brings the company now at Rome with Donadio as the leading star. Subsequently this company visits America. Mr. Gye will rely on Mrs. Albani to succeed Mme. Patti.

A DANISH EXPEDITION.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 6.—Another Danish Polar expedition will start for the frozen North next summer, proceeding by the way of Franz Josef Land. It will be under the leadership of Messrs. Borjaas and Gammel, commander and owner of the Dolphin.

MARY ANDERSON'S REAPPEARANCE.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—Miss Mary Anderson made her reappearance at the Lyceum Theatre this evening in "Pygmalion and Galatea," and "Madame and Tragedy."

The house was packed to the roof, and the audience was most enthusiastic and liberal in its applause. Among the host of literary and social notabilities present were Minister Lowell, Consul-General Mr. Merritt, and Oscar Wilde. The opinion among the critics was that Miss Anderson surpassed herself, and that the performance was thoroughly artistic and finished. Mr. Terries, who played Pygmalion, also acquitted himself splendidly, and received a liberal share of applause.

At the end of the first act Miss Anderson was called before the curtain and repeatedly bowed in acknowledgment of the plaudits of the audience. She was afterward received three times, and at the end of the first play but Miss Anderson and Mr. Terries were called out and cheered for several minutes. The curtain between acts was drawn back to stage door, however, by Mrs. Weston Barrett, former Miss Heath. Miss Anderson had given orders to the ushers that there was no carrying to the stage door, but, unfortunately, the ushers did not receive the instructions of her manager.

The most charming of all these men was an enthusiastic American who had come to Paris for the largest and costliest of all the theatricals. He was especially an admirer of the actress, and was seen in the interval of the play, and again after the performance. Mr. Abdy and the gentlemen of the company were entertained as a guest supper at the Bedford Club.

WHAT THE EMPERORS WILL DISCUSS.

VENEZIA, Sept. 6.—The Political Correspondent publishes a report from St. Petersburg announcing positively that the meeting of the Czar, Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph will take place in Warsaw, Poland.

London, Sept. 6.—It is generally expected in political circles that one of the main topics which will be discussed will be the relations of the three Empresses with the question, What measures are to be taken against Russia?

Presently the elements are, a truce, a fleet, an element.

It is also expected that the Czar, Emperor and King of Prussia will be present.
